One great way to teach children their ABC's is to READ, READ, READ. Reading to your child everyday helps them to recognize different letters. It also prepares them to learn to read.

One way to keep your alphabet learning enjoyable is to include music. Singing the Alphabet Song is always a lot of fun. However, remember that children not only need to say the letters of the alphabet, but they also need to recognize each letter of the alphabet. Children this age learn best through play. They don't need fancy flash cards or loads of worksheets. They need a variety of activities to stimulate their brains and to reach them the way that they learn best. (The Measured Mom).

Tools for Triumph – When responding to an adult, always answer by saying “yes ma’am or “No sir’ or use their name such as “yes, Mr. Jones” or “no, Mrs. Jones.”
